

RHINO VIEWING @TABIN

The Sumatran rhino (Dicerorhinus sumatrensis) is the smallest of all rhino species. They have been around for millions of years, but their time might be coming to an end. Today, there are fewer than 80 of these critically endangered rhinos left. In Malaysia, we have spent decades desperately working to save this species. Despite countless attempts to find more rhinos in little explored jungles, none have been found of late. In 2015, the Sumatran rhino was declared extinct in the wild in Malaysia.

Today only 2 captive rhinos are left in Malaysia: Tam, a middle aged male rhino, and Iman, a female. These two are all that stand between the species and their extinction in Malaysia.

For the first time, we are offering the opportunity for nature-lovers to visit Borneo Rhino Sanctuary (BRS) in Tabin Wildlife Reserve to learn about our work and observe the rhinos. Tabin is the only accessible site in the world with the opportunity to view Sumatran rhino. Exclusive to guests staying at Tabin Wildlife Resort, we invite you to visit us at BRS and learn about the efforts in place to save this amazing species from extinction. You will be able to see our facilities, learn the work that BORA is doing, and see Tam in his smaller pen before he returns to his larger forest pen. We have carefully slotted the program timing so it flows into the daily program by Tabin Wildlife Resort. The program will last for about an hour after morning activity.
